

NATIVE SON HEADS AMERICAN LEGION

ELECTION IS MADE UNANIMOUS
AFTER ELEVENTH BALLOT

JOHN R. QUINN, DELANO
NATIONAL COMMANDER

Choice Comes After Balloting Has Consumed Greater Part of Day—
Leaders Pledge Service to Body's Policies.

San Francisco.—John R. Quinn, a stockman of Delano, was elected national commander of the American Legion on the eleventh ballot, polling a total of 502 votes. His nearest competitor was James A. Drain of Washington, D. C., who received 342 votes on the last ballot.

The choice of Quinn came after the delegates had been deadlocked during the morning session and the greater part of the afternoon in the balloting. His election resulted when Pennsylvania, with 54, and Indiana, with 26 votes, switched their votes in the eleventh ballot.

Announcement of Quinn's election was received with wild ovation on the part of the delegates, who paraded the auditorium and carried the new commander to the platform. His election was made unanimous on the motion of James Drain, and which was seconded by Gen. Clarence Edward of Massachusetts, also a candidate.

The new national commander is a native of Delano, Kern county. He is a graduate of the University of California and is 34 years of age. At the opening of the war he matriculated from the second officers' training camp at the Presidio with a commission of captain of field artillery. He assumed command of Battery F of the 34th Field Artillery, Ninety-first (Wild West) Division, and served ten months overseas in France and Germany. Quinn is a past department commander of the California department of the legion.

Other national officers elected were: National vice commanders, Lester Albert, Idaho; C. M. Stoddard, Arizona; William L. Heally, Pennsylvania; Thurman Mann, North Carolina; Ryan Duffy, Wisconsin.

Ezra Clemmons, Minnesota, was unanimously elected national chaplain.

At the meeting of the national executive committee all appointive national officers were continued in their positions.

Lemuel Bolles continues as national adjutant, with Russell G. Creston assistant adjutant; Robert H. Tyndall of Indiana remains as national treasurer; Eben Putnam of Massachusetts, national historian, and Robert A. Adams of Indiana, national judge advocate general.

The executive committee cast a unanimous ballot in support of the motion by the new national commander retaining these men.

Legion policies, as reiterated by the convention, were approved by the committee and entrusted to the particular care of Commander Quinn and his subordinates.

Father O'Connor pronounced the invocation at the opening of the concluding sessions and asked blessings for the legion, members and officers.

Condemn Klan as Peril

After a stormy session, which threw the convention into a turmoil, delegates on Thursday passed a resolution denouncing "un-American organizations." It read:

Resolved, By the American Legion in national convention assembled, this eighteenth day of October, 1923, that we consider any individual, group of individuals, or organizations, which creates or fosters racial, religious, or class strife among our people, or which takes into their own hands the enforcement of law, determination of guilt, or infliction of punishment, to be un-American, a menace to our liberties and destructive of our fundamental law; and be it further

Resolved, That we consider such action by any individual, groups or organizations to be inconsistent with the ideals and purposes of the American Legion.

"40 and S's" Elect

Members of "La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux," the national social adjunct of the American Legion, at the last business meeting presided over by Capt. Edward J. Elvers, retiring chief de chemin de fer, elected Robert J. Murphy of Nora Springs, Iowa, leader of the social organization. Chief de chemin de fer Murphy announced that the only change he would make in the activities of the "40 and S" organization would be the removal of the headquarters of the organization from Seattle to Indianapolis, where the American Legion headquarters are centered.

RED CROSS PLANS FOR COMING YEAR

Over $2,000,000 in Fund for War
Sufferers—National Budget
Is $5,543,077.

AID TO VETERANS
STANDS FIRST

Expended $9,738,448 in Services to Mankind Last Year at Home and Abroad.

Washington.—With a budget of $5,543,077.81 for carrying out the program of service during the current fiscal year, beginning July 1, the American Red Cross announces that this amount was $4,195,370.41 less than was expended during the fiscal year ended last June 30. During that year expenditures reached a total of $9,738,448.22, of which amount $2,605,696.09 was devoted to relief of refugees in Greece who had been driven out of Asia Minor. In announcing the budget for the year, the statement from National Headquarters emphasized the fact that its extensive work at home and abroad depends almost wholly upon the nation-wide support of the organization through enrollment of membership in large numbers during the annual roll call, which will be in progress from November 11 to November 29 under the auspices of the 3,600 Chapters in the United States and throughout the world. These Chapters, it is pointed out, during the last fiscal year expended of their own funds approximately $3,929,000 in work for the men who wore the United States uniform during the World War, so that the estimate of some $15,000,000 expended during twelve months by the American Red Cross as a whole is considered conservative.

Soldier Service Stands First
From July 1, 1917, to June 30, 1923, the American Red Cross spent nationally and through its Chapters close to $164,000,000 in behalf of American soldiers who served in the war and their families. During last year the figure alone mounted to more than $5,866,255, and for the current fiscal year National Headquarters has set aside under the heading, "Assistance to Disabled ex-Service Men and Women," $2,065,834.20. The Chapters will continue to do their part, so that it may be predicted with confidence that again more than $5,500,000 will be disbursed in the large variety of services to the disabled men and women and their families—services for which the Government cannot provide and which reach the individual case with the sympathy and understanding only actual contact can insure. This work of the American Red Cross approaches the fifth anniversary of the Armistice, which ended the World War with only slight decrease in calls for service in the interest of the welfare and rehabilitation of those who suffered physical disability in the service of their country.

In the interest of the enlisted men serving in the Army and the Navy the budget provides $309,020 for the current year. This is obligatory under the Red Cross charter, for the organization must act in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people and their Army and Navy.

Domestic Program Extensive
The domestic operations of the American Red Cross comprise an accurate indicator of the continuing calls for expansion in all the established and authorized services. The budget aggregates $4,636,449.70, as against expenditures during the last year of $4,452,066.20. The abnormal demands in the foreign field in the last several years, however, have largely subsided, and in consequence $906,628.11 has been set for the 1923-24 budget under foreign operations. On this amount $394,303.91 is set aside for engagements which will close the work for the refugees in Greece, for whose amelioration $2,605,696.09 was expended up to June 30, when the American Red Cross withdrew, and the work was taken over under the control of the Greek government. For liquidation and completion of general relief in Europe the budget provides $100,000, and for American Junior Red Cross projects, foreign and insular, and assistance to Chapters listed under foreign operations.

Ready for Emergency Calls
The readiness of the American Red Cross to answer immediately with effective service in cases of emergency is an outstanding feature of its program that is universally recognized. During last year $525,000 was spent for relief in 110 disasters, which was $207,500 in excess of budget provisions. This year $400,000 has been appropriated for this service. Since 1881 the Red Cross has administered more than $20,000,000 in relief work

VERY SUCCESSFUL CONVENTION HELD HERE

Sunday evening the last session of the three day C. E. convention was held in the Congregational church and concluded one of the most successful conventions of the Santa Clara District C. E. Union. Altho not the largest in number of registrations, there were many who attended one or more meetings who did not register, but in point of general helpfulness, uplift and spiritual inspiration it ranked among the best.

Officers and local committees had spent much time an effort in the preparation of the program and arrangements for the comfort and entertainment of the visiting delegates.

The program has appeared in some detail in preceding issues so that only a few events can be mentioned.

The sessions of Saturday were largely given to consideration of plans and methods and an address by Rev. Morrison, of San Jose.

At 6 o'clock a banquet was served by the local C. E. society, and the ladies of the church, Mrs. Theo. Cutting, superintendent of the intermediates was in charge and much credit for its success was due to her efforts.

Dr. Jas. S. West, of the First Baptist church, San Francisco, one of the very popular speakers of the city, gave a very inspiring address on "How May We Acquire This Vital Faith?" His main point was that it is by experience and use and not by analysis that faith grows.

Sunday morning, W. DeWitt Coleman, state president, occupied the pulpit of the Congregational church and Paul Brown, Pacific Coast Field Secretary, that of the Methodist church, both giving very earnest and helpful addresses.

At the Sunday afternoon meeting the Rev. Howard McConnell of the First Christian church gave the address, which was another very helpful talk.

One of the most impressive features of the convention was the installation of the officers for the new year, upon whom will devolve much of the success of the state convention to be held in San Jose next summer. The officers are chosen from the various societies in the union but the Campbell groups seemed to come in for a considerable number—Norman Herring, third vice-president; Donald Elvey, treasurer; Gladys Merriman, statistician; Dorothy Merriman, junior superintendent; Hancie Naylor, Quiet Hour Supt.; Anna Lund, Assistant Press Correspondent.

Dr. Robert McLean, in charge of Presbyterian Mexican work in the Southwest and who came all the way from Arizona to attend this convention, gave the closing address—"How We May Impact This Vital Faith to Others." His talk was very practical and personal, illustrated with remarkable instances of real witnessing for Christ by converts among our Mexican neighbors within our borders.

Altogether it was a convention filled with good things.

ORCHARD CITY GRANGERS ATTEND STATE CONVENTION

Royal Hospitality of the Hosts Enjoined by Four Hundred Visitors

A party of about thirty Campbell Grangers attended the State Grange at Dinuba, October 16 to 20. Going by Pacheco pass they found the new road splendid. An immense amount of work has been done to give an easy uniform grade. As yet it is not a concrete pavement, but no doubt it will be in time and it is bound to become a very popular road for tourists.

Dinuba is a town of 500 population with well paved streets and is a well built, modern town. The State Grange was held in the high school gymnasium. At times there were fully 400 people in attendance.

A greater part of the time was taken up by regular grange work. Reports of granges, consideration of resolutions, election of officers, etc. The reception Tuesday evening was an open meeting and a most enjoyable affair. An outstanding feature was a violin duet by Pauline Walters, 8 years old, and Bonnie Burum, 7 years old, accompanied by the piano. Both deserve great praise, but Bonnie was such a little tot and with such a sweet baby face, and her arm not much larger than the violin bow, it seemed impossible, and one could scarcely believe their eyes when they saw her play with such perfect tune and time, handling the violin with the exactness and training of those many times her age. The little girls responded to an encore, thus giving two beautiful exhibitions of their skill.

Prof. Powell of the high school also gave a good, plain talk, but more of this later.

Thursday we were given a great treat—an all day excursion through the surrounding country and towns. Fifty autos and the high school bus, carrying 25 passengers and driven by Prof. F. M. Powell in person, were in line. Eight of our Campbell people were in the bus. Nearly 300 people in all went, and a jolly crowd they were. The route lay thru the orange belt of the east-

ROOSEVELT DAY AT CAMPBELL OCT. 27

Allen, president of the Roosevelt Association will have charge of the program and Dr. Joseph A. Stevenson of San Jose will deliver the address.

The Boy Scouts will assemble at 1:30 and police traffic.

The San Jose high school band will assemble at the post office and lead the procession to the high school grounds.

Flags will be raised at 1:45 by the Boy Scouts.

"Star Spangled Banner" by Audience led by the boys band.

Rev. F. C. Farr will give the invocation.

J. H. Rainwater, scout executive will give the Boy Scouts' Memories of Roosevelt after which music will be furnished by the Campbell high school glee club.

The Roosevelt shovel used in planting the tree will be exhibited.

More music by the band.

Address by Dr. Stevenson.

Benediction by Rev. W. E. Eckles.

Mrs. Ralph Holbrook went to Sacramento last week for a few days visit with relatives.

ern foothills and across the valley where the raisin grapes stretch for miles on every side, as prunes do with us. At Woodlake the school children were all out with roses for every one and to each rose was attached a card saying "Woodlake, where everything is rosy." Soon we were in the midst of the orange country. Oranges to the right of us, oranges to the left of us, oranges in front of us, cultivated and irrigated. Boldly we rode and well, right into the orange dell. Heedless of storms and dangers, rode the doughty grangers.

The orange country is a belt along the foothills of the Sierra Nevada range, free from killing frosts. It comprises many thousands of acres of citrus fruit and orange culture is a very important industry extending from Lemon Cove on the north in a very irregular line thru Exeter, Lindsay to Porterville and beyond.

At Exeter we were presented with large baskets of grapes, mostly of the Emperor variety, more than the grangers could possibly eat. Other towns, Lemon Cove, Porterville, Tulare and Visalia gave a hearty welcome, passing around ice cream, fruits, etc., for all. The local Grange at Poplar gave them a lunch at their hall which was also a very enjoyable occasion.

We visited this same country in 1912 and it was wonderful to see the progress and development since then. For miles on miles we rode through vineyards and fig orchards—one single orchard of 640 acres of figs just coming into bearing. Hundreds of car loads of table grapes are shipped to eastern markets every week and there were miles on miles of trays of Thompson seedless raisins drying between the rows. These are taken to the packing houses where we saw them packed in boxes of twenty pounds and cartons of one pound each. The weighing and packing is entirely done by machinery attended by girls and women and the raisins are not touched by hand. The little five cent packages however were put up by hand.

The packing of figs is much like the former facing of prunes only large quantities are put up in small packages for retail, each fig being flattened out with thumb and fingers and placed in regular order in the package.

Thursday evening after the beautiful initiatory ceremony of the fifth degree we all marched to the banquet room of the Presbyterian church where the Harvest Feast had been prepared by Dinuba Grange. There were 400 plates set and nearly all were taken. After the feed was over we had the pleasure of listening to a very forceful and interesting address by State Horticultural Commissioner George H. Hecke. He praised the governor for his economy program and urged more strict inspection against the European fruit fly.

Friday was a busy day finishing up the work of the grange and the installation of officers, most of the old officers being retained for another two years. Everybody seemed to have a good time and it was spoken of as one of the most successful State Granges ever held.

The following list of names of those who attended from Campbell has been given us, but there may have been some omissions: Messrs. and Mesdames Bert Butts, E. K. Clendenning, J. H. Campbell, Harry Barnes, W. R. Coupland, Ben Dalvit, Knack, Geo. Parso, Stanley Smith, Louis Shelley; Miss Shulte, Mesdames Martha Wade, Ida Thomas, and Laura Foster; and Messrs. H. G. Keesling, F. S. Newcomb and H. V. Archibald.

An Education and a Lesson in Geography to Last You All Your Life

By ARTHUR COBE, Jr., in Motor Life.

Frank as the observation may appear to the native sons of the state in which the climate is more salubrious, the sunshine brighter, and the moon larger than anywhere on earth, not all transcontinental tourists go West; not a few of them proceed in the other direction, to see what the rest of the country is like, and to be pleasantly surprised at the discovery that matchless beauty lies east of the Rockies.

But whether you go east or west, a trip across the American continent is an education and a lesson in geography that will last throughout the remainder of your life. We talk a lot these days about Americanism and the Americanization of various elements of our population. What a boon it would be to the solution of these problems if our worth-while citizenship material could be shown the length and breadth of the country from an automobile, the only conveyance suited to so all-inclusive a purpose.

Within the borders of the United States lie unexplored regions of scenic beauty that equal the best to be found anywhere on earth. Every mountain in Europe—from the snowcapped Alps of Switzerland to the Hartz of northern Germany—has its duplicate or superior here.

THE TIME OF THE CRUCIAL TEST

All indications point to the advent of better business. Depression has given way to confidence. Business has come through one of the most critical periods in history. In other times business has suffered from depression and from many other conditions that threatened its very life, but never until the past few years has there been such world-wide business hardship, with the whole world in much the same condition. Even now when a firmer basis has been established, the time has not arrived when the business man may rest easy. There are problems just as serious now as there were immediately following the war. The buying public has taken another stand. It is pitting its knowledge against that of the business man. It is searching down deep into the underlying principles of business and of the business man. It is trying him at the bar of justice and fair-dealing. It is demanding now—demanding that the business man deliver a product according to the value the public places upon it. This value is of the highest standards. The public demands full value for every cent it spends.

A BUSY SESSION

Campbell Commercial Association met in regular session Wednesday evening at the Campbell bank building with President G. S. Robson presiding.

Dr. Stallman reported concerning a permanent meeting place and was authorized to make a rental offer for the old library building.

The matter of water investigation was on motion indefinitely tabled. C. H. Whitman reported progress of the advertising committee.

After discussion a road sign was planned and several members offered to produce an ideal sample at next meeting.

The Hallows'en season was talked over and it was decided that a special police force be used in town next week. C. W. Shumway, L. S. Miller, D. A. McQueen, H. W. Morton, T. E. Tucker, and D. A. Rose volunteered their services for this work. Others will be asked to assist.

Saratoga Club has invited a highway to the summit conference for next week and Campbell will be represented by E. R. Kennedy, G. S. Robson and G. E. Stallman.

NEIGHBORS HORORED

Judge F. B. Brown, of the Juvenile court will address the Home and School Club of Campbell at an entertainment given in honor of the Fathers, Friday evening, October 26 at the new grammar school building. They will discuss some juvenile problems.

Mr. Edward Towner director of the Boys' Band will play a cornet solo. Other delightful numbers have been provided for the program which promises to be one of exceptional interest. The program will follow a six o'clock supper which will be part of honors extended the fathers.

The Hi Y boys met last evening at the Methodist church some fifteen in number. After the eats Mr. D. H. Cramer, Rev. F. C. Farr, Rev. W. E. Eckles and Elwood Baugh spoke and election of officers was held. John Duncan Jr., was chosen president; Will Robinson, vice-president; Wayne Davis, secretary, and Yale Maxon, treasurer. Dr. W. I. Merrill will speak at the next meeting, which will be Tuesday, October 30, at the high school.

CHINA CLUB TOPIC

The second of the programs dealing with China was considered Monday by the Country Woman's Club. Mrs. Robson was chairman of the program committee and announced the divisions under which the period of history under the Manchu dynasty was to be considered.

Mrs. Helen Dodge read a very comprehensive paper on the "Organization of Government" during this period which lasted from 1644 to 1912.

The topic assigned to Mrs. Theo. Cutting was "Foreign Intercourse". This and the preceding subject necessarily overlapped in places as the coalition of China was largely due to the aggressions of foreign countries. One event of interest recounted was the trip of Ambassador Burlingame, our minister to China for a number of years, who was sent by that government on a trip around the world to explain China to other nations.

Later political reforms were treated of by Mrs. F. M. Righter who read of the events leading up to and the establishment of the Chinese Republic.

During the intermission following the business session Mrs. H. M. Shadle sang most delightfully "My Dreams" by Tosti and "When Song Is Sweet" by Gertrude Sans Souci.

A pleasant social afternoon was arranged for next Monday afternoon which is to take the form of a kitchen shower. The committee has prepared a list of articles needed to complete the furnishing of that room and members and their guests may see it at the library or enquire of Mrs. R. W. Kennedy or Mrs. H. P. Bean.

Three new names were added to the list of members.

The members of the Johnson avenue Improvement Club assembled at the home of Mrs. L. F. Shaw Monday evening for one of their neighborly times, in honor of the O. G. McConnell family who are removing from that avenue. These gatherings afford an opportunity for friendly visiting which is becoming almost obsolete. Phonograph music and refreshments completed the evening's pleasure. Mr. McConnell is moving to Buena Vista Avenue in the section east of the Bur bank school.

EXTRACTING THE GOLD

ONE TIME, a good many years ago, a man set up a queer looking machine on the beach at Seabright, near Santa Cruz. Somebody asked what the machine was for. "Why," said the man, "there's a trace of gold in all this beach sand. I'm experimenting. If my machine is efficient enough to get gold in paying quantities, I'll make a fortune."

He gave it up, but eventually some one will succeed. Things just as astonishing are done in other places. Around Oroville, gold people run dredges out through the orchards. First thing you know some company with up-to-date machinery will buy your house and lot, run it all through a hopper, and show you a wealth of gold you never suspected.

From gold to coffee:

Three thousand dollars is the cost of the complicated machine that just roasts and steel-cuts Blaine's Coffee—think of that. First, careful roasting, then steel cutting and sifting. Over and over, in an intricate process to get the grains one uniform size—all to the end of putting into your coffee cup the rich "golden" flavor. Modern machinery, especially the steel-cutter, adds more wealth of coffee flavor than you'd naturally suspect.

Blaine's Steel-Cut Coffee is freshly roasted and ground for us each week by a firm that specializes in such service. They leave us the job of publicity, which is why a blend so good can be bought so low as 40c.

Semolina Macaroni goes fine when flavored with Rex Chili Con Carne. It's an excellent combination. Try it. Fifteen cents a pound for Semolina, 15c a can for Rex.

And here's another bright idea: Let's have some JHN Kraut flavored with Camp Fire Pork Sausages. Fifteen cents for the Kraut, 15c for half a pound of the sausages.

Here's something else to think of. We can't spend all our fortune for eggs, now that the price has soared to three score and ten. We'll try West Seal Processed eggs at 49c. They are practical.

And now let's top off on our meal with a can of Mrs. Porter's Fruit Pudding, or her Fig Pudding. A great big 35c tin for the bargain price of 15c. For a fact we can't make our own pudding so cheap as that.

Town Tales Tersely Told

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Parker of Crockett were visiting at the J. F. Duncan home over the weekend.

High School Gymnasium opening is this evening with basketball games, to which the public is cordially invited.

Rev. W. E. Eckles made a hurried business trip to Porterville last week, accompanying the Campbell grangers part of the way.

Mr. and Mrs. S. G. Rodeck went to Fresno Tuesday to see their new grandson, and to take Barbara Jane Antrim, who has been with them for several weeks back home.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blair (nee Catherine Cooper) came down from the city to visit Dr. and Mrs. C. N. Cooper and attended part of the sessions of the E. convention.

Among the attendants at the convention were Miss Evelyn Henry, retiring president of the Santa Clara Union and Miss Lucy Vandergon, both of whom are teaching in Salinas.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Miracle and Mrs. M. J. Wilson returned Saturday night from a very pleasant motor trip thru the southern part of the state. Mrs. Wilson left Monday for Stockton to attend the state convention of the W. C. T. U.

George Osborn and Floyd Baumgartner returned from a trip to the southern part of the state, part of which was spent in Los Angeles. They called on George Benner at Pomona, who thought Campbell folks looked pretty good.

Mrs. Huldah Parker, who had spent several days at Palo Alto, returned Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Easton Carter who were on their way to Monterey to spend a few days with rs. Carter, and Miss Eleanor Carter, who is teaching in that city.

Doris Leviston Mizer came down from San Francisco to help her aunt, Mrs. Geo. Phelps, in the illness of her sister, Miss Stella Leviston, who is much improved from her attack of appendicitis. Mrs. Mizer returned to her home Tuesday.

Guy E. Farley has associated himself with E. R. Kennedy in the real estate business and will largely handle the office work. Mr. Kennedy will continue to attend to the outside business. This arrangement will relieve Mrs. Kennedy of office duties largely.

The R. E. Dunphy ranch home had a very close call from destruction by fire last week. A defective burner in an oil stove flamed up and refused to turn out or be smothered, and before Mrs. Dunphy had hailed in a passing autoist, the wall and wood work was scorched and the house full of soot and smoke.

The beautiful new bungalow which was being built at the corner of Willow and Meridian for Harry Mitchell of the Sunset Farm was destroyed by fire Monday morning. The house was almost completely and was valued between $4000 and $5000 dollars. Cause of the fire is unknown.

John Nipper, genal clerk in C. H. Whitman's store, and assitant plumber was married last Friday. Mr. Nipper is away on his honeymoon and we have not learned the particulars of the wedding. He has rented an apartment in North Central where he and his bride will come to live. Mr. Nipper or John, as he is commonly called, has made many friends here who will extend a welcome to him and his bride.

Those who enjoyed the excellent pictures at the Congregational church on a recent Sunday evening, recalling some of the events in the life and times of John Bunyan will be pleased to know that on next Sunday evening, October 28th, at 7:30 o'clock, they will have the opportunity of seeing and hearing an illustrated lecture on Pilgrim's Progress. These fine colored slides have been secured from the extension department of the University of California. The public is cordially invited to share this treat with us.

IDEAL SOCIAL ROOM SCENE OF PRETTY PARTY

The newly opened social room of the library building was the scene of a perfectly appointed party Tuesday afternoon when Mrs. Leon S. Miller and Mrs. E. Russell Kennedy, were hostesses to a group of their friends.

Baskets of chrysanthemums, marigolds and cosmos harmonized wonderfully with the coloring of the walls and furnishings, and with the addition of a wicker davenport before the fire place made as beautiful a "drawing room" as one could wish for. Greeted at the door by Mrs. Kennedy gowned in a magnificent mandarin's garb, the wall panels depicting life and scenes in China, and a subtle fragrance of incense issuing from quaint burners waited the guests in spirit to the land of the Orientals.

Mrs. Ralph Hyde favored the company with two charming solos, "In The Garden of My Heart" and "At Dawning," by Cadman and two readings "Rules and Suggestions for Watching Auction Bridge" and "The Young Idea's Shooting Gallery," were given by Mrs. H. C. Smith.

Part of the guests were then assembled about mah jongg tables while others who so preferred visited over their fancy work. Much merriment resulted over a "Tea Party" guessing contest which this group also enjoyed, Mrs. Whitman earning the prizes, a dainty hand made handkerchief.

Refreshments were served from small tables and were exceptionally artistic in arrangement and decoration, and the motif of the afternoon was carried out in the favors, miniature Chinese lanterns filled with Chinese candy and nuts.

Upon reckoning up the scores Mrs. C. W. Wolff carried off the honors which were rewarded with a basket containing a tea caddy of Chinese flower tea and the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. Guy Farley as a winning hand at mah jongg made of candy tiles.

Those assisting the hostesses in decorations and serving were Mesdames Warren Shelly, W. H. Stray, Shadle, R. H. Hyde and Miss Helen Baugh.

Several former Campbell residents were out from San Jose, and Mrs. C. F. Butterick, of San Francisco, was present.

HI BOYS BADLY HURT IN AUTO TURNOVER

Two boys from the Willow Glen district who attend Campbell high school, were in an automobile accident Monday noon in which both were injured, one quite seriously.

Principal D. H. Cramer had instructed the pupils not to take their cars away from school at noon without permission, as there were numerous complaints from citizens about the unnecessary and reckless driving up and down Campbell avenue.

These boys left their car at school but came down town and borrowed one, in which they were coming toward Campbell on the Los Gatos highway when the car overturned at the Bohnett-Hanger corner. Lawrence Cline was unconscious when picked up and remained so for more than two hours, while the second boy, Meredith Shattock, had his eye badly hurt. Neither boy had returned to school Wednesday and we were unable to learn the outcome of the accident.

It would seem that sometime the sad experiences of others' recklessness would be a lesson to others, but still the accidents multiply with disaster and death in their wake.

SCHOOL NOTES

Los Gatos played a return soccer game with Campbell last Friday afternoon. The score was 4 to 1 in Los Gatos' favor.

The pupils of the Campbell Grammar school are preparing for a Music Memory Contest to be held sometime next April. The music teachers are having the children get acquainted with the pieces by playing them on the phonograph. This music contest is a very good thing because it helps the children to recognize and become acquainted with the very best music. Members have very kindly loaned both phonograph and records.

Two Truths I Own

By GRACE E. HALL

It saddens me to realize
That, long years hence, when I am gone,
The stars I view with eager eyes
Shall still shine peacefully at dawn;
The trees that murmur as I pass
Shall but grow taller; and, alas!
The secret never betrayed,
That I once rested in their shade.

It hurts me when I pause to think
That, when a bit of crumbling clay,
I rest in low, forgotten grave,
There shall pass, as in my day,
Fond sweethearts tender, loving, true,
Whispering of love—that once I knew;
Unheeding me, who lie so still,
Though once I felt the self-same thrill.

Ah! long years hence, when I am gone,
The paths we tread today together,
Shall still be winding on their way
Through stormy and through pleasant weather;
A pain is beating in my heart
As down that narrow path we go—
Two truths I own: That we must part,
And oh, I love you—love you so!

CARE IN ADDRESSING MAIL

Because of the increasing number of pieces of mail which are insufficiently, incorrectly and ill-legibly addressed, a notice of caution is sent to mailers of Campbell by the local post office.

During the year 1922 there were 200,000,000 pieces of such mail deposited in the post offices of the country, of which about 17,000,000 pieces reached the dead letter office, and in this dead letter mail thus poorly or in insufficiently addressed was found more than $100,000 in cash.

In preparing any matter for mailing, the local post office is asking the following directions be observed:

1. Print or write legibly the complete name, post office, state, street and number. In lieu of the street and number, the address may be a post office box or a rural route. In any event write the most complete address available.

2. Avoid abbreviations which may be confusing or misleading, such as "Cal." often mistaken for
"Col."; "Miss." often mistaken for "Minn."; "Va.", often mistaken for "Pa.", etc.

3. The sender should write or print his name and mail address in the upper left corner.

4. If a complete address is not obtainable, the best address available should be used, with any descriptive words which will aid in the delivery, such as "Merchant,"
"Clerk," "Mechanic," "Teacher," or in care of some person or concern.

5. If the addressee is a "transient" indicate the fact by the words "General Delivery" or "Transient."

6. In short, affix an address that will enable the postal clerks and carriers readily to deliver the mail.
